The Mark Space website certainly gives that impression, but I've wasted $40 and a day of my life wrestling with incredibly complicated documentation and got nowhere.. I found this info on the Palm/HP support site: Palm Desktop and Mac OS X 10.6 Palm Desktop and HotSync Manager are not compatible with Mac OS X 10.. HP has bigger fish to fry as they move into the tablet business, and legacy devices have never been high on their priorities list.. The MacInTouch Home Page is the original Mac news site, providing timely, reliable news, information and analysis about Apple Macintosh and iPhone/iOS systems, plus security issues.. I suppose that is a recommendation In case it doesn't work, here's a link to the Mark/Space website.. Both the website and the User Guide are misleading if all you want to do is go on using your Palm handheld and Palm Desktop on a Mac using the latest OS.. Since Palm is gone as a company - and even before that had long stopped updating or supporting the 'desktop' application - there is little or no chance that they will ever update their code..
